Wednesday May 13th Remote Working: Security and Technology

NCRA is adding a fourth free webinar in its series on Remote Working. Courtney Jagneaux, RHIA, CTR, will present on Security and Technology on Wed., May 13, at 2:00 PM ET. While there are a multitude of benefits to working remotely, there are several risks for those who work with protected health information. Jagneaux will discuss how cancer registrars can safeguard sensitive data and promote efficiency in a remote environment. The live webinar is complimentary, but registration is required.

NCRA also has a great public webpage devoted to registrar online education and professional development. There are two particular resources that are both useful and free:

- * Free to View 10 Minute Videos on Abstracting Utilizing 2018 Manuals
- * Free & Updated 2018+ Informational Abstracts of Top 5 Primary Sites
